Should not cause skin irritations, and is safe for use for pregnant moms to bath with their kids.

Colourants are flavourants internationally approved as for safe use in toiletries

Usage and Tips

This jelly has a hard rubbery consistency in its container. A child will need a parent's assistance to remove the jelly from its tub. Let the child hold the jelly block under the warm water for one or two minutes (not under the running tap). The jelly block will soften and the child will be able to squeeze the jelly through their fingers, resulting in a "sticky, gooey" feeling.

The squeezing will result in small chunks of jelly falling to the bottom of the bath. The longer the jelly is in the water, the softer it becomes. The squeezing of the smaller jelly chunks can result in many minutes of fun. Then the parent must whisk the water vigorously by hand to create a bathful of long lasting bubbles.

Should small residues of the jelly be left after emptying the bath water, simply wash away.

This product is intended for use by parents with their child.

Tips: Placing the jelly tub in freezer will result in a different texture and experience. The jelly will also take longer to soften in the bath.

Ideal for Birthday presents
